RE: U.S. Mayors Support Large Capacity Ammunition Feeding Device Act of 2013 (S. 33 / H.R. 138)

Dear Speaker Boehner, Majority Leader Reid, Leader Pelosi, and Leader McConnell:

As more than 850 mayors in the national, bipartisan Mayors Against Illegal Guns coalition, we write to express our strong support for the Large Capacity Ammunition Feeding Device Act of 2013 (S. 33 / H.R. 138) introduced by Senator Frank Lautenberg (NJ) and Congresswoman Carolyn McCarthy (NY-4). This critical legislation would ban the possession of ammunition magazines that can hold more than 10 bullets, with exceptions for people who already lawfully own them and for current and retired law enforcement officers. The legislation would also prohibit the sale and transfer of magazines over 10 bullets. At a time when the U.S. endures 33 gun murders every single day and mass shootings occur at the rate of more than one per month, we need your leadership to protect our communities and the officers who police them.

High-capacity ammunition magazines are designed to kill large numbers of people in a short amount of time. A Mayors Against Illegal Guns analysis of mass shootings found that shooters armed with high-capacity magazines or assault weapons shot twice the number of people, on average, and killed 57 percent more than in other mass shooting incidents. On December 14, 2012, in Newtown, CT, Adam Lanza killed 20 children and six adults, and wounded two others, in the Sandy Hook Elementary School; he carried multiple high-capacity magazines and reportedly had enough ammunition to kill every student in the school. On July 20, 2012, in Aurora, CO, James Holmes killed 12 and wounded 58 in a suburban movie theater; Holmes used a 100-round drum and reportedly only ceased firing his AR-15 assault rifle when it jammed. On January 8, 2011, in Tucson, AZ, Jared Loughner killed six people and wounded 14 – including Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords – outside of a supermarket; he carried a 33-round magazine and was wrestled to the ground when he tried to reload his semi-automatic handgun.

These devices are also used to target our law enforcement officials. According to the Department of Justice, 41 percent of fatal police shootings where the gun model was known involved a high-capacity magazine. The officers who put their lives on the line every day to crack down on gun crime and gun trafficking should not have to face that kind of firepower.

The members of Mayors Against Illegal Guns support the Second Amendment and the rights of law-abiding gun owners. We believe those rights are compatible with strong laws to keep dangerous weapons out of the hands of criminals. In fact our Supreme Court specifically recognized the constitutionality of “prohibiting the carrying of dangerous and unusual weapons” in its landmark District of Columbia v. Heller decision.

The previous Federal Assault Weapons Ban provides strong evidence that restricting access to high-capacity magazines by law is effective at reducing their use by criminals. A Washington Post analysis of Virginia crime gun data found that the ban reduced the share of recovered Virginia crime guns with high-capacity magazines by 60 percent between 1998 and 2004. When the federal ban expired, the share of crime guns with high-capacity magazines rebounded, more than doubling between 2004 and 2010.

Congress must respond to the nation’s gun violence crisis with effective measures that protect our streets and ensure that law enforcement officials are not overpowered and outgunned by criminals. The Large Capacity Ammunition Feeding Device Act of 2013 is an important part of this effort that should also include expanding background checks and strengthening the laws against gun trafficking.

As a diverse group which includes gun owners, parents, first responders, and veterans – and as mayors from all across the political spectrum – we urge you to support this bill and allow full consideration in your respective chambers. During his State of the Union, President Obama rallied the nation when he said that gun violence survivors “deserve a vote” on key gun legislation. The young lives we hope to protect from future shootings also deserve that vote, and we sincerely hope you will make that happen.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino
Mayor of Boston

Michael R. Bloomberg
Mayor of New York City
